GOV. EASLEY APPOINTS BETTS TO EMPLOYEE ASSISTANCE PROFESSIONALS BOARD

RALEIGH – Gov. Mike Easley has appointed Jacquelyn Betts of Asheboro to the North Carolina Board of Employee Assistance Professionals.

Betts is program coordinator for Frank Horton Associates. She is a licensed employee assistance professional and a clinical addiction specialist. Betts is a member of the Rotary Club of Asheboro and the North Carolina Substance Abuse Federation Committee. She was a Paul Harris Fellow and received the ATHENA Award in 2001. Betts received her Bachelor's degrees in sociology, anthropology and social work from Eastern Nazarene College in Quincy, Mass. and her Master's degree in social work from Howard University in Washington, D.C.

The board approves educational programs and works to establish and prescribe the curricula and minimum standards for training to prepare persons for licensure and renewal. The board establishes minimum standards for employee assistance professionals, adopts rules governing licensing, issues licenses and establishes and collects fees. The board has five members, each serving a five-year term. The governor appoints all members.
